

Town Treasures of 2013

The Chapel Hill Historical Society recognizes these individuals and couples for their contributions to the Towns of Chapel Hill and Carrboro over the years. The program began in 2008, and continues as one of the Historical Society's most well-attended events. Each individual received a commendation from the Mayor's office, which was read aloud at the event. The photographs and citations are on view at the Seymour Center on Homestead Road, as are the documents from previous years.

Laurie Norman coordinated this year's event, along with Eleanor Morris. The photography was contributed by Michael Hobbs and writing by Margot Lester and Elizabeth Swaringen. The Historical Society is grateful to the Seymour Center for its generous support.
